We welcome you to the Coonawarra Wine Region

COONAWARRA

Australia's Red Wine Centre

Did you know?

History

- Coonawarra has long been recognised as one of Australia's premium wine producing regions and takes its name from the Aboriginal word 'honeysuckle rise'.
- Wine grapes were first planted in Coonawarra in 1890 with the first vintage being 1895.
- John Riddoch was the founder of the Penola Fruit Colony, which later became known as the Coonawarra wine region.
- Construction of the first winery in Coonawarra was commenced by John Riddoch in 1896 and was completed ready for the vintage of 1897. The iconic, triple-gabled building is now part of Wynns Coonawarra Estate.

Soil

- Coonawarra's terra rossa soils are unique.
- They are derived from fresh water, lacustrine limestone.
- They contain a high, aeolian clay and nutrient content.
- They provide the best terroir for Cabernet Sauvignon in the world.
- The geological term terra rossa – which is of Italian origin, was first used by Professor Dr. Franz Zippe in 1853.
- Coonawarra has an average elevation of 55m above sea level.

Climate

- Coonawarra is a cool climate wine region.
- Coonawarra has an average annual rainfall of 640mm.
- Coonawarra has an average daily winter temperature of 9.8°C and the average summer daily temperature is 18.8°C - perfect for grape growing and perfect for wine drinking.

Vines

- There are currently 5600 hectares under vine, which is approximately 7% of the South Australian wine industry vineyards.
- The main varieties grown in Coonawarra are Cabernet Sauvignon (62%), Shiraz (20%), Merlot (7%), Chardonnay (5%), Sauvignon Blanc (2%), Riesling (1%), and small quantities of other varieties such as Cabernet Franc, Malbec, Petit Verdot, Pinot Noir, Semillon and Viognier.
- Coonawarra grapegrowers are committed to sustainable grape growing, and was the first region to develop an Environment Management Plan.

Wines

- The key to the excellence of Coonawarra wines is their intense fruit character and great balance. This combination produces seductive and enjoyable young wines, which develop over time into wines of amazing complexity and ageability.
- Coonawarra wines are enjoyed by consumers and collectors throughout the world with wines being exported to over 50 countries.
- Coonawarra wines have won more Jimmy Watson Trophies than any other wine region in Australia.

Community

- The Coonawarra Vignerons Association (CVA) was formed in 1979 to promote Coonawarra as the best red wine producing region in the world. In 2014, the CVA amalgamated with the Coonawarra Grapegrowers Association to form the new Coonawarra Grape and Wine Incorporated (CGWI).
- The boundary of the Coonawarra wine region was determined in January 2003.
- The CGWI – and the former CVA, have contributed over $250,000 to local community groups and charities over the years including; Penola War Memorial Hospital, Coonawarra Men's Health Project, South Australian Autism Association, Royal Flying Doctors Service, Red Cross Bali Appeal, Starlight Foundation, Red Cross Tsunami Appeal, Eyre Peninsula Bushfire Appeal, Angel Flight, Prostate Cancer Foundation of Australia and Queensland Flood Relief Appeal.
- In 2004 Coonawarra was named the 'Most Fabulous Wine Region' at the International Wine Tourism Conference held in Margaret River.
- At the end of the day, the Coonawarra Grape and Wine Incorporated members like to see who grows the best tomatoes, play petanque, enjoy the community dinner nights at the Coonawarra Hall, eat fabulous food with family and friends and enjoy good wine.
